

Update on Pineberry Plants Given to Friends and Relatives

Written by Administrator

Thursday, 28 June 2012 06:36 - Last Updated Thursday, 28 June 2012 10:14

I have mentioned previously that I have handed out lots of pineberry plants to friends and relatives because the plants I originally got have put out so many runners. The rate at which they reproduce is incredible.

I would approximate that 80% of plants I have supplied have not produced fruit. I would like to think that next year things will be better.